

Attorneys. Licensed attorneys who on a regular basis represent licensed insurance companies and who work primarily in the area of investigating or defending suspicious insurance claims made against those companies.